Abstract

Crypto & Shopping

Wegros is all about WE!

We do it for God with thankfulness!

Wegros is a community commerce platform. It connects producers and communities over the innovative WE concept.

Wegros is the platform that connects opportunities created by both e-commerce and blockchain industries through Matrix Marketing model. The platform connects producers and service providers with communities over the WE concept.

We are working in two directions. The first direction is our activities for creating a community for the brands and services. The second direction is communities that we bring into the platform and provide products and services that they require.

This Whitepaper gives a detailed description of our research and planning. It also aims to demonstrate the status and future of the Wegros platform, associated products and solutions and WES token—the native token of the Wegros eCommerce platform deployed on the Binance Smart Chain.

The document strives to inform the readers how we our teams' expertise to provide a unified and WES bonus enabled eCommerce marketplace at high returns earning model and efficiency.

Introduction

State of the art platform

Wegros is a state of the art platform that unifies product and service providers especially in the healthy and organic products sphere, allowing consumers to enjoy shopping seamlessly, securely and cost effectively.

It serves as the bridge between the producers who make organic products and the people who care about their health. Moreover, Wegros creates an opportunity for people to create their community by doing that to earn lifetime profits from the purchases of the community. All the people who will be the part of Wegros platform will get WES bonuses that can be exchanged to WES tokens.

Wegros provides an efficient, Blockchain based platform which creates effective product tracking, payment and security system. It will serve as the next generation Community Commerce marketplace.

Respecting the rules and regulations of countries where Wegros is operating all payments are made in the currency of the respective country. The bonuses are provided in the system as WES bonuses. There is an option to exchange WES bonuses for products provided in the platform and also, for WES tokens.

About us

Community Commerce
Marketplace

Wegros is a global platform that aims to spread its business internationally world and create the cross borders opportunity for producers to sell their products to different communities globally.

The team consists of industry experts from the eCommerce sector, the banking sector, experienced programmers and developers, designers, marketing professionals, and accounting experts. The leadership team aims to resolve problems faced by consumers through the provision of a decentralized marketplace powered by Blockchain technology. We believe that the underlying factor that will continue to define decentralized community commerce platform is the ability to give people and businesses more power and control. This is the driving force behind the Wegros platform where people can freely utilize their bonuses in a fully secure, seamless, and affordable online environment.

Bonuses that are earned on the platform can be used to purchase the products and services, transferred to the card account and also can be exchanged for the WES tokens.

Our values

Our Mission

Serving people for the name of the God

Our mission is to deliver fast and easy decision making with the support of community within the wide variety products!

We provide communication and analysis tools within the platform for sharing, voting and trending the products that are more appreciated by the community in the platform. It is reducing the time spent for searching how to use and what the benefits are of the product Consumers are getting ready information related products they are interested in.

Problems & Solution

Community consumption and gain

Problems: what's wrong with current situation?

Wide variety of products make decision making complicated and more time consuming

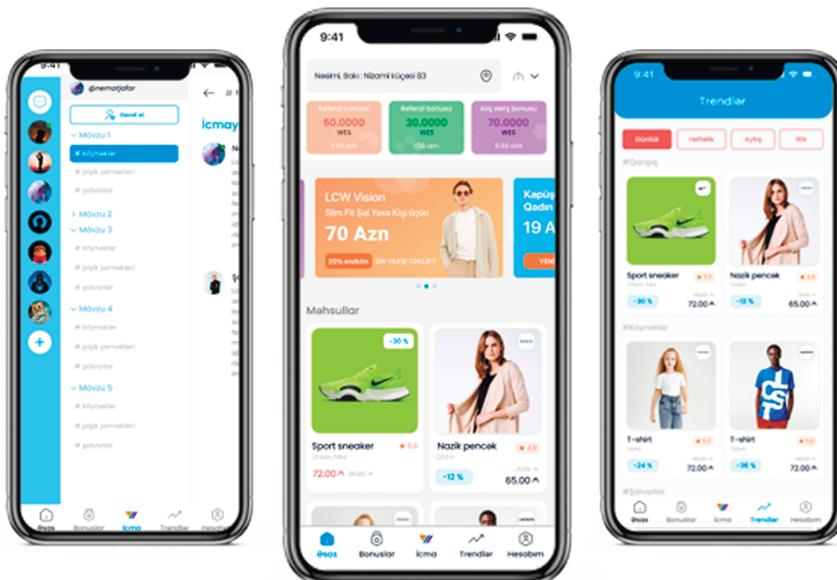

Less trust to promotions from the product providers

Lack of motivation to share experience with the product

Solution

The Web, iOS and Android based global platform.

Matrix Marketing model

Your path to financial freedom

The Matrix Marketing model is an effective approach to community development. There are Standard and Premium consumers on the platform. Standard consumers can make purchases on the platform and collect passive WES bonuses. They become Premium members as soon as their bonus amount reaches 15$ worth of 186 WES bonuses. Also, they can activate a Premium account by purchasing annual subscription directly.

Activating Premium membership consumers get 20% from the profit of the platform of the purchase by the member. Also, they can activate referral links which they can share and form their community.

Premium members get 1$ from the Premium member activation in their structure 10th level deep. Also, they get bonus payments from the referrals 10th level deep.

Business Model

Easy and transparent sales channel

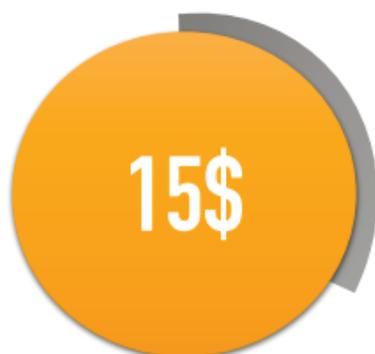

Wegros platform creates an opportunity for producers to place their products on the platform and track the sales over the dashboard provided to them. They also have an opportunity to share videos and photos, usage instructions, and extra bonuses with the community of their brands.

Producer companies pay the commission to Wegros for the sales of the products and services. Fifty percent of the commission goes to Wegros, and the other fifty are divided between linked consumers from the 10th level up.
